

Owning Copies of Ballard's "Christian Classics"¹

Author	Work Cited by Ballard	Current edition	Condition and cost on ABE.com
Augustine	Confessions (Oxford University Press, 1992)	1 st World Library – Literary Society 2005 	Very good, $3 incl shipping
Thomas a Kempis	The Imitation of Christ (Penguin, 1956)	Image, 1955 	Good, $3.47 incl shipping
John Bunyan	Pilgrim's Progress (Banner of Truth, 1989)	Signet Classics, 1964 	Good, $3.38 incl shipping
Dietrich Bonhoeffer	The Cost of Discipleship (SCM Press, 1959)	Touchstone, 1995 	Good, $5.44 incl shipping
Henri Nouwen	The Wounded Healer (Doubleday, 1972)	Image Books, 1995 	Good, $4 incl shipping

Today's Year Four reading contains, as many of our readings do, a recommended bibliography. If you don't mind a used copy (and why would you, if you are going to highlight and make marginal notes), these can be quite inexpensive.

As an example, here is Ballard's list, with prices as quoted September 24, 2016, on ABE.com

Moral of the story: EfM is an opportunity to build your library. You can own all of Ballard's list for less than $20!

¹ Paul H. Ballard, "On Being Theologically Literate," Modern Believing (Vol. 38, no. 3, July 1997: 34-42).